Re: Year 11 Form Class and Set Changes

Dear parent or carers,

As part of our ongoing commitment to ensuring that every student receives the most appropriate support and challenge in their learning, we have reviewed the academic data from the mock exams across all subjects. As a result of this process, your child's form class and current set in English, Maths or Science may change.

Why is my student being moved class or form group?

Our aim is to place students in the learning environment that best supports their development and helps them achieve their full potential. We have expert English, Maths and Science teachers as form teachers in Year 11 who can use the form time to the maximum potential where students need extra help in one of these subject areas.

We understand that changes to sets can sometimes cause uncertainty, and we want to reassure you that any decisions made will be in the best interests of your child's education. There are also a range of interventions both in school time, and after school, that students can access at this crucial time in the run up to their exams.

How will my child be informed of this change?

Students will be informed of any changes by a member of the Year 11 team before the Christmas holiday.

Which teachers should I make appointments with for Y11 Parents' Evening?

Where any sets are changed, please keep your current appointments with the class teachers at parents' evening so you can discuss their performance in the autumn term and the mock exams as well as the reasons for the set changes.

We are really proud of the effort students have put into the recent round of mock exams and are looking forward to working with you and your child through the remainder of this academic year, to ensure they achieve their full potential.

Yours sincerely,

J. Anderson
